

Enrolment Information for 41151 Summer Studio B (6cp)

41151 Summer Studio B 'hosts' a number of separate studios. Complete this form to request enrolment in the subject and indicate your studio preference(s).

Am I eligible?

To enrol in Summer Studio, you must:

- be enrolled in an award course offered by one of the following: Business School; Faculty of Design, Architecture and Building; School of Education; Faculty of Engineering and Information Technology; Faculty of Health; Faculty of Law; or Faculty of Science; and
- have completed a minimum of 24 credit points in your course prior to the start of the February 2019 session; and
- have elective space in your study plan for the subject - see over for further details.

What is the expected time commitment?

- Summer Studio runs for 4 weeks during the February 2019 teaching session, 4 February – 1 March 2019. It will be five full days a week on campus for those 4 weeks, a combination of supervised face-to-face classes and self-directed activity outside these times. This is 140 hours in total, which is typical for a 6 credit point subject.
- It will be difficult for you to satisfactorily complete other subjects that are running over the (normal) Summer period as well as Summer Studio. While there are no exams for Summer Studio, the February session overlaps with the (normal) Summer exam period.
- Similarly, Summer Studio is not compatible with substantial work commitments outside the university. So, be prepared to work full time on this subject for 4 weeks in February.

How do I enrol?

- Enrolment opens on 16 October 2018 and is by eRequest only - the subject is 41151 Summer Studio B.
- Your eRequest must be accompanied by Page 3 of this form completed.
- Enrolment in Summer Studio closes on 30 November 2018.

Where will it fit into my study plan?

- If you have electives in your study plan, the Student Centre will use one of them to enrol you in this subject.
- FEIT students only: If you do not have any electives remaining (or didn't have any in your course to start with), we may consider a study plan variation – substituting a required subject in your study plan with 41151. The Student Centre will seek approval on your behalf.

What do I do next?

- Complete the form on the next page.
- Attach it to an eRequest seeking enrolment in 41151 Summer Studio B.

What happens then?

- The Student Centre will allocate you to your preferred studio, where available. Studios will be filled as eRequests are received. If a studio is full, the Student Centre will allocate you to your second (or third) preference.
- The Student Centre will contact you to advise which studio you have been allocated to as well as any further instructions.
- We'll be following up with all students as we get closer to the start of the February session, so watch your UTS email account.

All enquiries should be sent to FEIT.SummerStudios@uts.edu.au
